Okayama University is a place I would definitely come back.

I came to Okayama two years ago as an international exchange student. During that time, I met a lot of people and made a lot of new friends which offered me the opportunity to learn more about Japan and its culture and traditions. In Okayama University there is a very good environment for research because there is a good collaboration between the different departments of the same courses. All the teachers I have had have always been very helpful and understanding, thing that made me want to come back here and join the PhD course.

But here there is much more than just study. Okayama is not a very big city but it has many interesting places to visit, like Okayama castle, and Kurashiki city, and there are also many festivals that will leave a huge impression like the hadaka matsuri. Definitely, coming to study in Okayama University is an experience that I will not easily forget!

Experiencing Japan can't get better

The university with its friendly staff, lush green campus, numerous cafeterias and convenient stores in and around the campus provides a relaxing and nurturing environment. The university has a wide range of clubs and circles where one can join and where language just is not a barrier. The L- Café at the university is a great place to kick off life at the university for the new comers. With a challenging and systematic curriculum and a vast number of courses to choose from, learning becomes a great experience here at Okayama University. During the long breaks from the university one can travel extensively, and Okayama being placed in the central part of Japan, travelling anywhere inside the country is never too far away. Meeting people both from Japan and other nationalities, making friends, exploring new places, taking part either in the activities held by the university or the parties with students, gives a true insight of the Japanese culture, makes life fun in a unique way that can happen only in Japan and Okayama University is where one can experience it all.
