

Guide to using the Okayama University Student card

The student card is important to identify your status as the student of Okayama University. Since the student card will be issued when you enter the university, please carry it with you at all times and treat it very carefully without losing or damaging it. Furthermore, please keep it safe as it possesses IC and magnetic stripe functions.

IC function of the student card

'Student card' + 'Membership card of Okayama University CO-OP'

When you use the card, please touch the card reader at the university library, and CO-OP stores (shops and at cafeterias). If you remove your card from the card reader under processing, it causes error and trouble. So please remove your card after the processing is finished.

The number on the upper right side on the back of the student card is the membership card number of Okayama University CO-OP. Please tell the number to the staff of CO-OP when you ask something or you do internet shopping on the website of CO-OP.

The CO-OP electric money 'momoca'

(You can charge a unit of 1,000 yen and up to 50,000 yen at most.)

Before you use your student card for 'momoca', you need to put money into your card (to charge) in advance. You can charge at the recharge machines settled on Peach Union, Muscat Union, Pione Union and Medical Department Memorial Hall. You can also charge at a cashier of the CO-OP stores (shops and cafeterias). After handing over money in cash to the staff, please touch the card reader.

Please do not stack IC cards!

If you have another IC card (such as Hareca card, PiTaPa card etc.) and these cards are stacked, the card reader cannot read your proper information because both interfere with each other. Please touch your card directly to the card reader.
