A place you should stay till late at night

Okayama Visitors & Convention Association

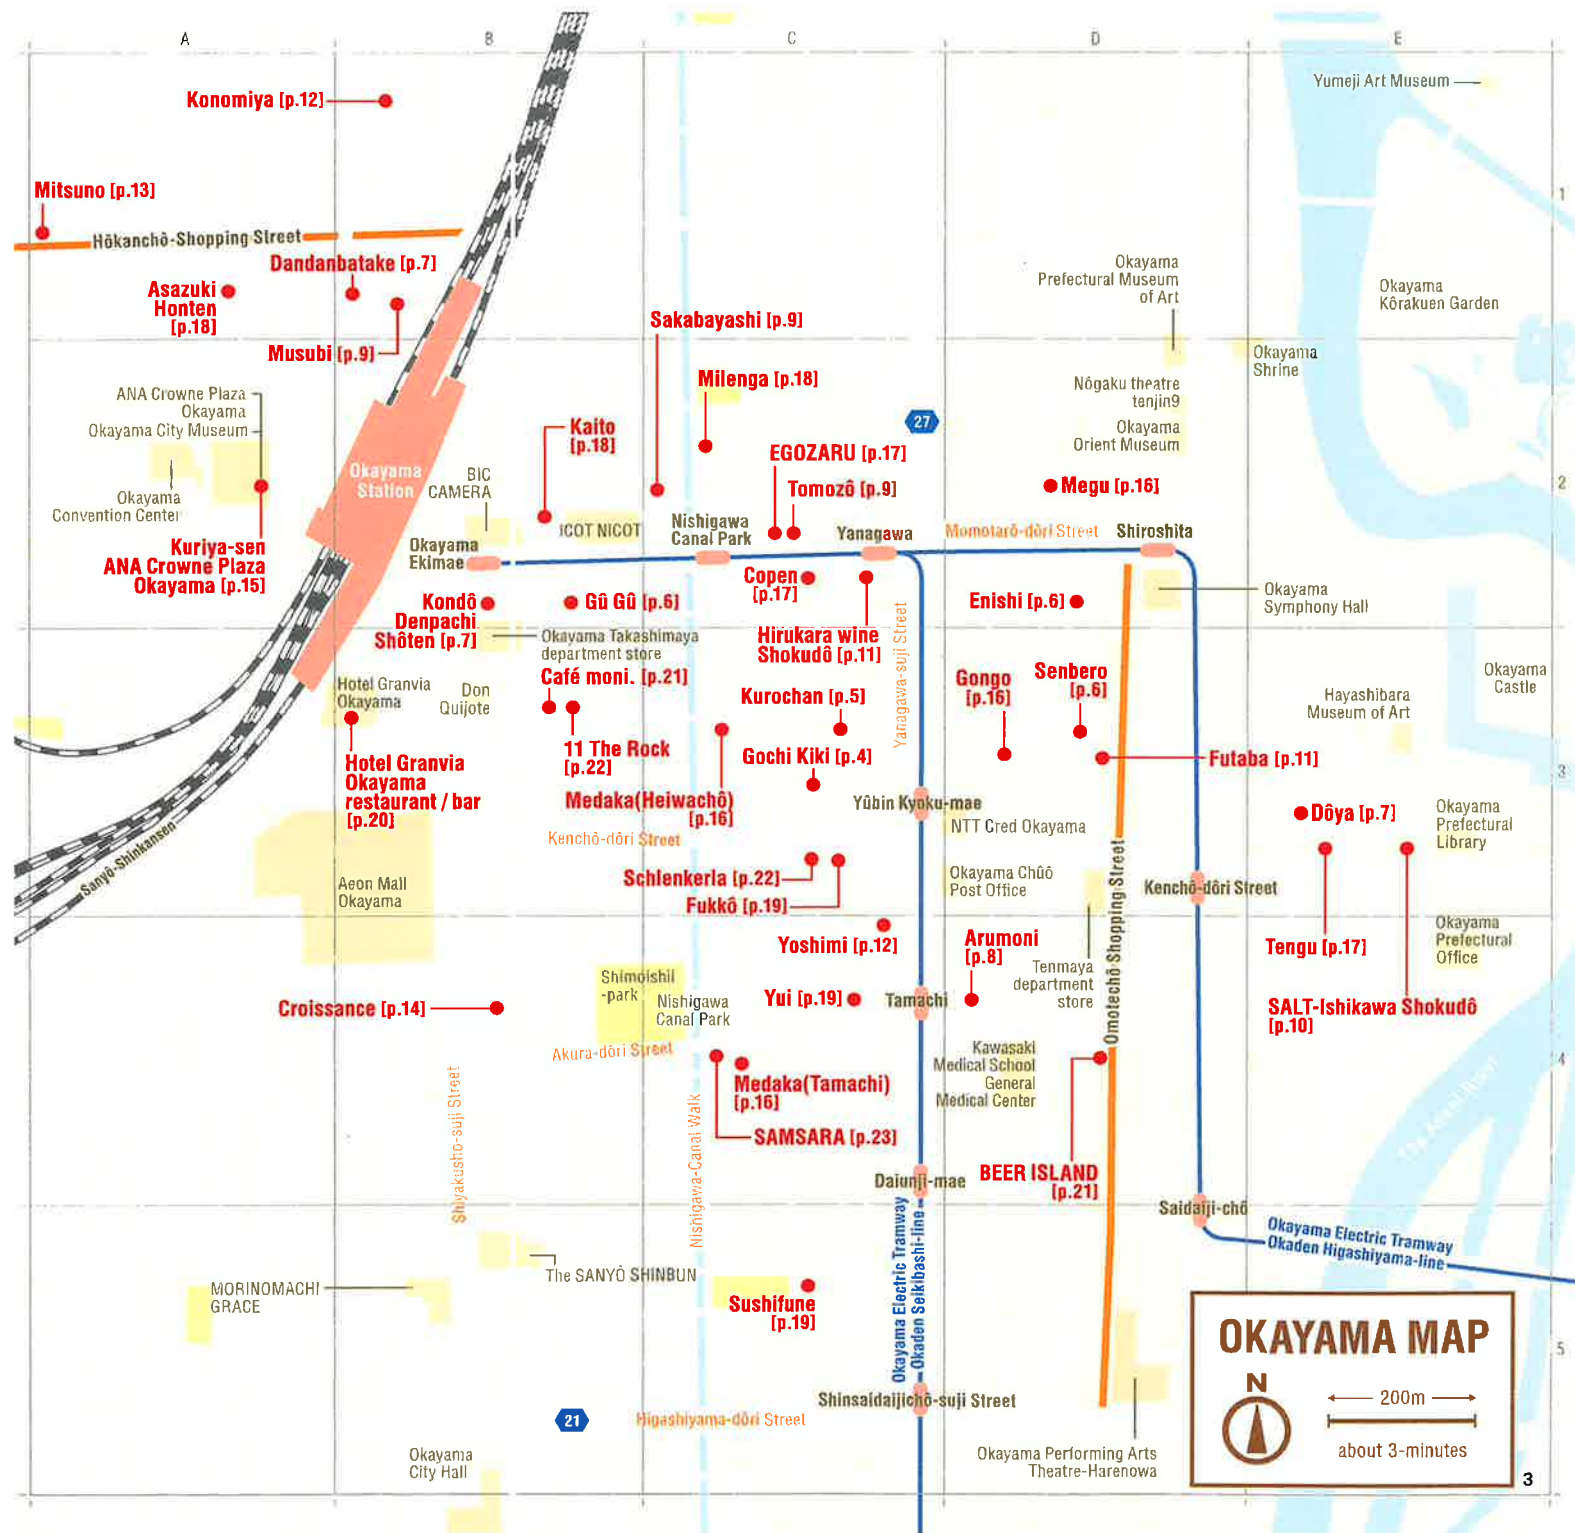

You can't go on a business trip on an empty stomach.

Delicious food is a source of energy that gives you vitality for tomorrow's work. Local sake rich in flavor and cold beer are the fuel for life.

On days when you were almost defeated by unexpected incidents, on days when you achieved your goal and were beside yourself with joy, or on days when you arrived in an unfamiliar town and had mixed feelings of expectation and tension ..., on days like these, you need time to enjoy yourself with sake and side dishes, if even for a short time.

Now let us declare, "The stomach plays an important role in the accomplishment of difficult tasks."

We would like to offer this magazine to our companions who are working hard every day.

This is ... Special Feature 1 Izakaya Style.

Did this style start 400 years ago?

A varied menu, a variety of sake brands served in traditional Japanese style are the elements that make up the izakaya as it is today. It is said that in the Edo Period, liquor shops, where sake was sold by weight, began to let customers drink on the premises, and the serving of side dishes began. Eventually this practice led to the current izakaya-style pubs, which have been loved by the public ever since. Here we are introducing specially chosen izakayas, from traditional ones to modern ones evolved in unique ways.

Individuals welcome! A restaurant popular among the locals

A Japanese style dining bar whose main attraction is the taste comparison between seared Okayama specialty Sawara (Spanish mackerel) and Kōchi Pref. Katsuo (bonito) as well as a stir-fried Ki-Nira (yellow Chinese chive) and egg. The Ki-Nira is fresh and grown by local farmers in Kita-ku Musa. Local sake is also served. We have lots of counter seats and solo dining is welcome.

Creative cuisine using local ingredients

This Izakaya serves creative Japanese cuisine unique to Okayama. A full line-up of delicious dishes such as Ki-Nira (yellow Chinese chive) Tempura and Sawara (Spanish mackerel) with Ki-Nira in a thick sauce is served here. Fresh local fishes and seasonal ingredients as well as local sake are served for your delicious memories.

A charcoal grill izakaya loved by locals

A 2-minute walk from Okayama station. You can enjoy charcoal-grilled giblets using carefully selected fresh ingredients with delicious tare (dipping sauce.) You can also enjoy "Yaki-ton" (grilled pork,) which is rare in Okayama and loved by the locals. Our specialty "Motsu-nikom" (stewed giblets) is popular for its mild taste.

Izakaya where you can enjoy Seto-Inland Sea fish as well as local sake

Seafood Izakaya where you can enjoy fish dishes using Seto-Inland Sea fish as well as fishes from all over Japan. Seto-Inland Sea Sawara (Spanish mackerel) as well as Nodoguro fish from the San'in region, and Ala Carte is recommended. Okayama local sake is served along with sake from all over Japan such as "Dassai" and "Densyu."

Eel dishes utilizing ingredients, and seasonal dish

Our popular Unagi (eel) dish has a tender and melt-in-your mouth texture. You can enjoy the eel either glaze-grilled or grilled without seasoning. Special seasonal dishes, a set-meal menu complete with eel, and a mild flavor homemade Tofu are also highly recommended.

Current Izakaya style.

What "Izakaya" means is to stay on premises at a liquor shop and drink.

We mentioned the history of Izakaya above (p. 4-5.)

Surprisingly, it is said that there is an Izakaya in Ekimaechō, which embodies the atmosphere of the original ones that date back to the Edo Period. An editor, who was on a business trip, entered the place, and later wrote.

Staff teach me how to order.

▼"Surprisingly, all of the sake here is from Okayama. There are more than 200 brands. You can purchase the sake you like, but be careful about not buying too much, because there may be a rule that limits the amount of liquor you can bring back to your country."

There are seven counter seats and two tables seating four persons each in Izakaya area.

Comforting Izakaya like an oasis for gentlemen

This is a restaurant where you can enjoy creative dishes cooked by a good-looking mature chef with a playful imagination. Crisply fried petittoes with ponzu sauce is a popular dish many regular customers come here to enjoy. We would like you to enjoy both the texture and the attractive appearance of the dish.

A unique shop where rare sake and dishes are served

A red lantern and Kojima denim are the landmark of our shop. Curry bread made by the owner who loves Reggae music is absolutely delicious. When the shop has the necessary ingredients, the chief will make whatever dish the customer orders. We always have some 80 types of whisky and scotch for you to choose from.

◀ Peach liqueur and muscat grape liqueur as well as slightly sparkling sake are among the recommended drinks. In the Izakaya area, you can enjoy Okayama specialties such as Mamakari (Japanese scaled sardine,) Shako (mantis shrimp,) Sawara (Spanish mackerel) and Ki-Nira (yellow Chinese chive.)

A variety of craft beer you can experience in Okayama

You can enjoy more than 10 different craft beers on tap even in the daytime. No other place serves more than ours. We serve a daily line-up of beer chosen by our owner, who is also qualified as a beer sommelier. You can also take out cans or bottles of beer because of our liquor license, please bring back home some local craft beer as a souvenir.

A beer bar in a building with a live house on the upper floor

We serve a variety of draft beers such as PUNK IPA, as well as various drinks and foods. Iron plate Napolitan (tomato sauce-based spaghetti) and the Okayama specialty Omu-ebimeshi are highly recommended. This bar is a place where you can not only enjoy Rock music but also watch televised sports games and more.

Traditional beer many regular customers come to drink often

The smoked beer "Schlenkerla" has a history of over 300 years in Germany, a country which is unequalled in the brewing and consumption of beer. This is the only place (except Tokyo) where this draft beer is served. Once you drink our beer with its deep, smoky aroma and moderate bitterness, you are sure to come back again and again. We also have domestic craft beer.
