- ❑ Hospitalization due to a traffic accident or occupational accident requires a special procedure. Please advise of this at the beginning of the admission procedure.

Precautions for Oral Care – Recommendation to Visit the Dentistry Division –

Oral depuration and infection prevention function degrade due to various reasons during a hospital stay. Decayed teeth or periodontal disease (alveolar pyorrhea) may become aggravated and further result in worsening of the systemic illness. In addition, the favorable nutrition before and after the surgery is extremely important to promote post-operative recovery. If a broken implant or artificial tooth is left untreated, you cannot sufficiently bite food and take necessary nutrition orally. Please visit the dentist and undergo a check for any decayed tooth, periodontal disease or broken artificial tooth.

If your teeth are not clean or you are at an advanced age, bacteria contained in saliva may enter the air passage, enhancing a risk of respiratory infection such as pneumonia. Visiting the dentist to keep your mouth clean is a preparatory step to make your hospital stay more comfortable and safe. We will provide instructions on toothbrushing, oral care, and adjustment of artificial teeth during the period preceding your admission to the hospital. We strongly recommend you to visit the dentist while you are preparing for admission. Consult with your doctor or nurse.

- ❖ It is necessary to confirm the health insurance card, etc. each month during hospitalization. You should present it for acceptance once a month.
